2006 Independent Publisher Book Award for Story Teller of the Year In this updated edition of Ana Castillo ' s celebrated novel in verse, featuring a new introduction by Poet Laureate of Texas Carmen Tafolla, we revisit the story ' s spirited heroine, known only as " Ella " or " She, " as she takes us through her own epic journey of self-actualization as an artist and a woman. With a remarkable combination of tenderness, lyricism, wicked humor, and biting satire, Castillo dramatizes Ella ' s struggle through poverty as a Chicano single mother at the threshold of the twenty-first century, fighting for upward mobility while trying to raise her son to be independent and self-sufficient. Urged on by the gods of the ancients, Ella ' s life interweaves with those of others whose existences are often neglected, even denied, by society ' s status quo. Castillo ' s strong rhythmic voice and exploration of such issues as love, sexual orientation, and cultural identity will resonate with readers today as much as they did upon the book ' s original publication more than ten years ago. This expanded edition also includes a short preface by the author, as well as a glossary, a reader ' s guide, and a list of additional suggested readings.

" Seductive... full of infectious vigor... these stories demand, above all, to be listened to. " —New York Times Book Review From Ana Castillo, the widely praised author of So Far from God and The Guardians, comes this collection of stories on the experience of love in all its myriad configurations. Infectiously moody and murderously comic, Castillo chronicles the rapturous beginnings, melancholy middles, and bittersweet endings of modern romance between men and women, men and men, and women and women.

Máximo Madrigal, an expatriate of Sapogonia, the metaphorical homeland of all mestizos, confronts the difficult issues of identity and race.

From American Book Award-winning author Ana Castillo comes a suspenseful, moving novel about a sensuous, smart, and fiercely independent woman. Eking out a living as a teacher ' s aide in a small New Mexican border town, Tia Regina is also raising her teenage nephew, Gabo, a hardworking boy who has entered the country illegally and aspires to the priesthood. When Gabo ' s father, Rafa, disappears while crossing over from Mexico, Regina fears the worst. After several days of waiting and with an ominous phone call from a woman who may be connected to a smuggling ring, Regina and Gabo resolve to find Rafa. Help arrives in the form of Miguel, an amorous, recently divorced history teacher; Miguel ' s gregarious abuelo Milton; a couple of Gabo ' s gangbanger classmates; and a priest of wayward faith. Though their journey is rife with challenges and danger, it will serve as a remarkable testament to family bonds, cultural pride, and the human experience Praise for The Guardians NAMED ONE OF THE BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR BY THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE " An always skilled storyteller, [Castillo] grounds her writing in . . . humor, love, suspense and heartache—that draw the reader in. " —Chicago Sunday Sun-Times " A rollicking read, with jokes and suspense and joy rides and hearts breaking . . . This smart, passionate novel deserves a wide audience. " —Los Angeles Times " What drives the novel is its chorus of characters, all, in their own way, witnesses and guardian angels. In the end, Castillo ' s unmistakable voice—earthy, impassioned, weaving a ' hybrid vocabulary for a hybrid people ' —is the book ' s greatest revelation. " —Time Out New York " A wonderful novel . . . Castillo ' s most important accomplishment in The Guardians is to give a unique literary voice to questions about what makes up a ' family. ' " —El Paso Times " A moving book that is both intimate and epic in its narrative. " —Oscar Hijuelos, author of The Mambo Kings Play Songs of Love

A series of letters focuses on the relationship between two strong and independent Latina women and traces the changes in their lives from their travels together in Mexico during their youth to their lives in the United States as they reach middle age

Carmen Santos, a flamenco dancer, whose affair with her married director has begun to sour, begins seeing his grandson, and a furious love triangle takes shape. Reprint. 40,000 first printing.

Growing up as the intellectually spirited daughter of a Mexican Indian immigrant family during the 1970s, Castillo defied convention as a writer and a feminist. A generation later, her mother's crooning mariachi lyrics resonate once again. Castillo—now an established Chicana novelist, playwright, and scholar—witnesses her own son's spiraling adulthood and eventual incarceration. Standing in the stifling courtroom, Castillo describes a scene that could be any mother's worst nightmare. But in a country of glaring and stacked statistics, it is a nightmare especially reserved for mothers like her: the inner-city mothers, the single mothers, the mothers of brown sons. Black Dove. Mamá, Mi'jo, and Me looks at what it means to be a single, brown, feminist parent in a world of mass incarceration, racial profiling, and police brutality. Through startling humor and love, Castillo weaves intergenerational stories traveling from Mexico City to Chicago. And in doing so, she narrates some of America's most heated political debates and urgent social injustices through the oft-neglected lens of motherhood and family.

Presents lyrical, streetwise, frequently autobiographical poems, some in English and others in Spanish, including a new, never before published work.
