Solution Chemistry Notes. 2. Solutions Basic definitions – Solution: homogenous mixture – Solute: substance that is dissolved – Solvent: substance that contains the solute in a solution Process of Dissolving: – Molecules of the solvent “pull apart” the solute molecules, and distributes them within the solvent How to tell the solute from the solvent – The substance that is in the greater amount is the solvent – The substance that keeps its phase is the solvent.

When a metal conducts it is the electrons that are moving through the metal. When a salt solution conducts it is the ions in the solution that move towards the electrodes carrying the electrons. During electrolysis oxidation of the non-metal ions always occurs at the anode and reduction of the metal or hydrogen ions occurs at the cathode.

This book emphasises those features in solution chemistry which are difficult to measure, but essential for the understanding of both the qualitative and the quantitative aspects. Attention is paid to the mutual influences between solute and solvent, even at extremely small concentrations of the former. The described extension of the molecular concept leads to a broad view ? not by a change in paradigm ? but by finding the rules for the organizations both at the molecular and the supermolecular level of liquid and solid solutions.
